

Staci Headley, Regional Development Planner

Staci comes to Region Five with a degree in Organizational Behavior. As a Regional Development Planner, Staci assumes the responsibility of Transportation Planning including fulfilling the program requirements of the MnDOT planning grant and developing partnerships in the region that support sustainable active transportation through physical planning activities.

Additionally, she works with local units of government to provide comprehensive planning services for Community Development. Staci is also responsible for external marketing and communications of organizations including Region Five Development Commission, Resilient Region and NCEDA utilizing various forms of social media.